

Figure 3.1. Two ways of dividing the atmosphere: by temperature structure (left side) and by composition (right side). The change in the apparent molecular weight of air ( $M_d$ ) due to the changing composition of the atmosphere with height is shown in the center.